Title of NRN

PPBI - Portuguese Platform of BioImaging

Mission of NRN

The PPBI is a nationwide research infrastructure dedicated to bioimaging and formed by a consortium of Portuguese Research Institutes and Universities. PPBI activity is focused on providing access to advanced bioimaging resources and expertise (from nano to mesoscopy), including analysis of bioimage data. PPBI will boost collaboration between researchers, institutions and industry to strengthen both basic and applied research, matching high-impact R&D projects with state-of-art bioimaging resources and expertise. Through shared coordination, strategic investments, and efficient allocation of resources, PPBI will give access to cutting-edge technological resources to national researchers, create conditions to attract international researchers and integrate Portugal in the European and international Bioimaging roadmap.
